

Oregon State Bar Address Change Form

Use this form or go to www.osbar.org, log in as a member and follow the link to View/Change Address.

OSB members are required by Rule of Procedure 1.11 "Promptly to notify the Oregon State Bar in writing of any change" in the member's contact information. Contact information includes a current business address and telephone number, along with an email address for receipt of bar notices and correspondence. This rule applies to inactive as well as active members. The bar's online directory is updated daily with new information. Check your listing at www.osbar.org/members.

Home address: The bar does not maintain records of home addresses unless a member's home address is also the member's business address or is the only address available.

Public records: All OSB membership database information maintained by the bar is a permanent part of your membership file and is subject to disclosure under the Oregon Public Records Law (ORS 192.410 et seq.) pursuant to ORS 9.010.

How to make changes in your listing information:

Use the web: Use the online address change form available at: www.osbar.org. Use the member login link and follow the signs to View/Change Address. We recommend this method because the data is reviewed daily and is deposited directly into the member database.

Use email: You may also simply email your updated information to: addresschanges@osbar.org. Please remember to include your bar # and name in your email message. These changes must be review reviewed and then manually entered into the database.
