Speaker Bios

Tod A. Bassham, B.A., University of Tulsa (1983); M.A., University of Tulsa (1985); M.A., Ohio State University (1991); J.D., Lewis and Clark, Northwestern School of Law (1994); member of the Oregon State Bar since 1994; Board Member, Land Use Board of Appeals, Salem since 1999. Mr. Bassham was previously staff attorney for LUBA.

Rob Bovett currently serves as Legal Counsel for the Association of Oregon Counties (AOC), where he primarily works on policy matters relating to governance, elections, ocean issues, and drugs. Rob previously served as the elected District Attorney (2009-2014) and appointed Assistant County Counsel (1992-2009) for Lincoln County, Oregon. Rob is the author of many of Oregon’s drug laws, including those relating to meth lab control. He created numerous state and local initiatives that provide science-based solutions to problems caused by substance abuse, such as HOPE and other diversionary programs. Rob has authored many opinion pieces on drug policy, including those published by The Oregonian and The New York Times, has provided over 500 presentations regarding drug policy, and has appeared on numerous programs, such as Good Morning America, National Public Radio, and PBS NewsHour and FRONTLINE.

Ashley Boyle is an Associate Attorney with Beery, Elsner and Hammond. Ashley focuses her practice on employment and labor but also advises on public records, open meetings, land use, other matters for the firm’s clients. Prior to coming to BEH, Ashley worked exclusively with Oregon local governments on labor and employment matters as a management representative. She also clerked for a union-side law firm and for the Oregon Department of Justice, Trial Division, Tort and Employment Section. Ashley has given countless presentations and trainings on municipal personnel issues, with topics including legislative and Employment Relations Board updates; effective discipline and discharge; and navigating the Public Employees Collective Bargaining Act. Ashley received her undergraduate degree from Holy Cross and her J.D. from Lewis and Clark law school. When not at work, Ashley is an avid distance runner, backcountry skier, and outdoor enthusiast.

Heidi Brown. I graduated law school in 1992 after attending Lewis and Clark Law School. I worked as a public defender for almost twelve years, handling criminal cases and juvenile matters, including abuse and neglect allegations. I left the public defender’s office in 2006 and then worked at Bennett, Hartman, Morris & Kaplan, LLP ("BHMK") for nine years. At BHMK, I represented unions in labor and employment matters and I handled family law cases. In 2013 I came to work for the City of Portland as a labor and employment attorney. While I handle a multitude of labor and employment issues and cases, I have been immersed in veteran’s preference issues since shortly after starting with the City. I am involved in a committee that worked on draft legislation with recommended changes to the veteran’s preference statutes. I regularly advise City managers and supervisors on how to apply the preference, and I co-chaired one employment case through trial that contained veteran’s preference issues and have two other cases pending with similar claims.

Chris D. Crean has more than 20 years’ experience in land use, municipal law, public meetings and records laws, municipal litigation and government relations. Chris has advised and represented all levels of government in Oregon, including the Oregon Legislature, cities, counties and special districts. He served as Deputy Legislative Counsel in Salem where he drafted the state land use laws and advised the Oregon Legislature on land use issues. As Assistant Multnomah County Counsel, Chris represented the county before the Land Use Board of Appeals, the Oregon Court of Appeals, the Oregon Supreme Court and the Oregon Tax Court. Chris received his undergraduate degree from Earlham College and his J.D. from American University. Chris is married to Nancy Harlan and together they have a son Colin. Chris is an avid canoer, skier and backpacker and has been known to cheer for Notre Dame football.

Inga Deckert’s practice focuses on representing clients before the Oregon Legislative Assembly and Executive Branch agencies. In 2009, Inga was named a Rising Star (top lawyer under 40) by Oregon Super Lawyers for her government relations work. She is a former partner of Tonkon Torp LLP. Inga has extensive legislative and executive branch experience. She served for seven years as the Director of Legislative and Public Affairs for the State Treasurer, responsible for developing and implementing legislative strategy to achieve the Treasurer’s legislative objectives. She also served as the advisor to the Treasurer, in his position on the State Land Board, coordinating and negotiating with the Governor’s office and the Secretary of State’s office about issues before the Land Board and working with the Department of State Lands to ensure policies were implemented in accordance with the Board’s positions. Inga has lobbied in every legislative session in Oregon since 2001. She represents a variety of clients including corporations, non-profit organizations, professional associations and municipalities. She received her juris doctorate from the University of Oregon and has been a member of the Oregon State Bar since 1998.

Tamara E. Jones has been the Pre-Loss Employment Attorney at Citycounty Insurance Services since January 2013. Prior to joining CIS, Tamara was a partner at Barran Liebman LLP and Miller Nash LLP, and she has practiced employment law on behalf of public and private sector employers for more than 17 years. Tamara is a frequent presenter on legal issues in the employment law and human resources fields, and she served as editor/author of the book “Model Policies and Forms for Oregon Employers”, published in association with the Associated Oregon Industries (2007-2012 editions). During her final year in private practice, Tamara was recognized as an Oregon Super Lawyer, in “The Best Lawyers in America” (Litigation - Labor and Employment) and as a Specialist in labor and employment law by Chambers U.S.A. An Oregon native, Tamara graduated with honors from Boston University School of Law and Simmons College.

Scott A. Morrill, Oregon State Bar, Tigard. Mr. Morrill is the manager of the Client Assistance Office (CAO) at the Oregon State Bar. He performs intake and initial investigations of complaints about lawyers to determine if they violate the Oregon Rules of Professional Conduct and warrant further review by the bar. Mr. Morrill speaks with members of the public about their concerns with lawyers and gives informal advice to lawyers about their ethical responsibilities. He has been with the bar since 2002, first with the disciplinary counsel’s office and then with CAO. Mr. Morrill’s background includes 10 years in private practice, where he primarily practiced personal injury, domestic relations, and misdemeanor defense. He also served as a Tualatin Municipal Court judge and is still active as a pro tem.

Sean O’Day is the General Counsel for the League of Oregon Cities and a go to resource on municipal law. With over 15 years of public service at the state and local government level Sean has served as a Judicial Law Clerk to the Chief Justice of the Oregon Supreme Court, Deputy Legal Counsel to Oregon’s Governor, Deputy City Manager for the City of Salem, and Deputy City Attorney. In his role as General Counsel for the League, Sean is an advocate for home rule and recently worked to secure a victory for local control of medical marijuana dispensaries in the case of Cave Junction v. State of Oregon. Sean is also a Judge Advocate in the Oregon Army National Guard and a veteran having served in Afghanistan during Operation Enduring Freedom in 2006-07.

Alan A. Rappleyea, AICP, is County Counsel for Washington County. He was previously the City Attorney for the City of Beaverton and the Planning Director and County Counsel for Crook County. He has authored chapters in Oregon State Bar’s books Land Use and Regulation and Taxation of Real Estate. He passed the Oregon Bar in 1989 and the Washington Bar in 1991.

Kathryn A. Short is a Senior Assistant Multnomah County Attorney. Ms. Short represents the County in relation to labor and employment matters in federal and state court. She also advises County’s departments relating to employment and personnel issues. Ms. Short attended Santa Clara University (B.S. 1988) and Willamette University College of Law (J.D. 1995). She was admitted to the Oregon State bar in 1995. Ms. Short’s bar related activities include serving in the Oregon State Bar House of Delegates (1999 to 2009), the Federal Practice and Procedure Committee (2000-2002), the Civil Rights Executive Committee (1999-2001) and the Government Law Section Executive Committee (2010-present).
