

The Oregon New Lawyers Division is pleased to announce this year's annual award recipients. The outstanding members below will be honored at the ONLD Annual Meeting and Award Ceremony on Friday, November 12 at 5:00 pm via Zoom. Please save the date and join us to hear more about why these award winners were selected, and to hear their acceptance speeches.

The Honorable Valeri L. Love will receive The Honorable John V. Acosta Professionalism Award, which honors a member or retired member of the Oregon State Bar that demonstrates honesty, integrity and an ongoing commitment to cultivating and promoting the highest ethical and professional standards among new lawyers in the Oregon State Bar.

Sarah Malik will receive the Advancing Diversity Award, which honors a member of the Division for advancing the OSB's value of "serving and valuing its diverse community, to advancing equality in the justice system, and to removing barriers to that system."

Venetia Mayhew and Kate Edwards will receive the Public Service Award, which honors a member of the Division for substantial contributions to the public through efforts involving pro bono service, law related education or activities to benefit the public.

A.C. Estacio-Heilich will receive the Member Services Award, which honors a member of the Division for contributions to the Division's membership and mission.

The ONLD CLE Committee will receive the Project of the Year Award, which highlights a new or significantly redesigned program provided by ONLD or other new lawyer associations and honors members of the ONLD for their substantial contributions made toward this program or project.
