Meet your CLE requirements with three seminars in one day that offer access to justice, ethics, and the new combined child and elder abuse reporting credits.

Meet Stuart Teicher

Stuart Teicher is a professional legal educator who focuses on ethics law and writing instruction. A practicing attorney for over two decades, his career is now dedicated to helping fellow attorneys survive the practice of law and thrive in the profession through his entertaining and educational CLE presentations. A New Jersey Supreme Court appointee to the New Jersey District Ethics Committee, Stuart investigates and prosecutes grievances filed against attorneys. He is an adjunct professor of law at Georgetown Law, teaching Professional Responsibility, and an adjunct professor at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, teaching undergraduate writing courses. Stuart's book, Navigating the Legal Ethics of Social Media and Technology, was published by Thomson Reuters.

Breaking Through Bias and Barriers: Exploring Access to Justice in the Legal Profession*Stuart TeicherCLE credits: 3 General or Access to Justice7:45 Registration*8:30 Breaking Through Bias and Barriers: Exploring Access to Justice in the Legal Profession

Part of the Oregon State Bar's mission is to increase access to justice by advancing equality in the justice system and removing barriers to that system. This one-of-a-kind presentation will look at topics such as:

- Access to justice and the right to counsel—the issue of economic status
- The intersection with ORCP 8.4 (a)(7)
- Breaking through the bias barrier—strategies to increase diversity in the practice of law

Come for the substance; leave with inspiration.

(One 15-minute break will be taken in the morning session.)

11:45 AdjournYour Time to Shine: An Oregon Lawyer's Duty to Report Elder and Child AbuseStuart TeicherCLE credits: 1 Abuse Reporting11:45 Registration

(Brown bag lunches are welcome.)

Noon Your Time to Shine: An Oregon Lawyer's Duty to Report Elder and Child Abuse

Receive a detailed review about:

- Statistics and policy reasons for the duty
- The obligation and who is responsible
- Reporting, including the "immediate" requirement
- Exceptions to reporting

See how this duty can be an empowering act of service.

1:00 AdjournExit Row Ethics: What Rude Airline Travel Stories Teach About Attorney EthicsStuart TeicherCLE credits: 2.5 ethics1:00 Registration*1:30 Exit Row Ethics: What Rude Airline Travel Stories Teach About Attorney Ethics

Having traveled the world as a professional legal educator, Stuart Teicher has seen all kinds of bad behavior. Coincidentally, it mirrors some of the behavior he's seen as an attorney ethics investigator. Board his ethics flight and learn about:

- Pre-flight announcements—getting comfortable with the Oregon Rules of Professional Conduct
- Pilot or passenger—who gets to decide issues regarding scope of representation and authority
- Safety procedures—fees and screening provisions
- Leaving something behind—conflicts

Being a good pilot is a lot like being a good (ethical) lawyer—it's all about your personal behavior.

(One 15-minute break will be taken in the afternoon session.)

Here's what OSB members said about Stuart Teicher's previous OSB seminars:

"This is the only ethics class I've attended where I think I will remember the material."

"Mr. Teicher is an amazing presenter! He packed a lot of substance into the presentation while making it engaging and entertaining."

"Very engaging speaker. Did a wonderful job of demonstrating [the] evolution of ethics and how the scope is broadening for us all in our responsibilities."

"Excellent CLE! Thorough, clear and hilarious. Bring back Stuart every chance you get."

"Fantastic speaker and teacher. Ethics made fun. Thank you so much!"

"Entertaining as only a guy from New Jersey can be."
