This year's program provides a golden ticket to receive the latest information to strengthen your juvenile law practice. Explore why developing a family plan may be preferable to court involvement. Learn how to identify and address child sex trafficking. Examine common immigration concerns for parent and children clients as well as differing responsibilities in juvenile cases involving immigration issues. An appellate update will provide an overview of the latest cases affecting juvenile law from both state and defense perspectives. And gain insight into combating, preventing, and overcoming compassion fatigue.

Register by 1/28/19 and save $20.
